ABOUT

Some voices don't need the lights on. Nikki's cuts through the dark over riffs that don't slow down. Shadowspell is a Los Angeles band built around her melodies, with every note of the music written by her husband, Alex. They call it LITE METAL: hard, fast, riff-based songs with beautiful vocals on top. Alex also plays guitar and sings backup in the touring theatrical metal band Dead Things, but here he writes the music and Nikki owns the front.

> "A heavy, intense listening experience."
